Figure 1. The dorsal side of a split cobble. Box indicates area of magnification in the following images.

Figure 2. The ventral side of the split cobble.

Figure 3. Lacquer-like polish from the red box in Figure 1 at 100x. Note reformed silica adhering to the edge possibly deposited on the edge from tool use.

Figure 4. Close-up of edge illustrated in Figure 3 shown here at 200x.

Figure 5. The reformed silica along the edge shown here at 500x.